Module 1: Systemic change monitoring framework

05

Data collection designs and methods

Once the overall monitoring framework is designed, substantial work will need to be taken to generate data and collect information for performance indicators. Module 9 provides an overview of selected design frameworks, data collection methods and integrated approaches, and explains how these can be applied to assess change at different levels of the market system.

Monitoring and evaluating a value chain project

Brief e-learning introduction to monitoring and evaluating in value chain projects.
